INTRODUCTION

The Republic of Slovenia, as well as other European Union countries, provides conditions for the integration of foreigners who have a residence permit in the Republic of Slovenia into the cultural, economical and social life in the Republic of Slovenia. The objectives of the integration policy are based on principles and values of equality, freedom and mutual co-operation.

The presumption for successful integration is your preparedness to accept the values of the society – these are human dignity, freedom, equality and solidarity – and also the preparedness of Slovene society, which has to encourage and facilitate your integration into it. Successful integration into Slovene society depends on knowledge of the fundamental characteristics of Slovene society; these are the language, history and social organization.

Here we have prepared some basic information which will help you during your life and work in the Republic of Slovenia. You can find detailed information on the state portal e-government http://e-uprava.gov.si/e-uprava or contact the relevant bodies.

Entry and Residence of Citizens of the European Economic Area (EEA) Member States

Residence Registration

Citizenship of the Republic of Slovenia
ENTRY AND RESIDENCE IN THE REPUBLIC OF SLOVENIA

ENTRY AND STAY OF THIRD-COUNTRY NATIONALS AND THEIR FAMILY MEMBERS

The entering, leaving and residing of foreigners in the Republic of Slovenia are governed by the Aliens Act.

ENTRY INTO THE COUNTRY

Entry into the Country on the Basis of a Visa or a Passport

If you are a citizen of a so-called third country and want to enter or reside in the Republic of Slovenia due to tourist, business, personal or other reasons, you must obtain a visa at the diplomatic mission or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia. You can also enter the Republic of Slovenia for the same reasons and reside here for a fixed period (maximum 90 days in six months, starting from the date of first entry) on the basis of a passport if you are a citizen of a country which does not need a visa to enter the Republic of Slovenia.

Entry into the Country on the basis of a visa or a residence permit issued by another country that is a party to the Schengen Agreement

The Schengen Implementation Convention, which from 21 December 2007 applies to the Republic of Slovenia, sets the conditions of movement in the area of Contracting States of the Schengen Agreement for foreigners, third-country nationals, who have been issued a visa or a residence permit from one of the Contracting States.

If you are a holder of a uniform visa issued by another Contracting State of the Schengen Agreement, you can, during the period for which the visa is valid, enter and reside in the Republic of Slovenia if you meet the following entry conditions:

- you have assured means for subsistence;
- you have documentation showing your intentions during your stay;
- you do not represent a threat to the public order, national security or international relations of any contracting state.

With a valid residence permit issued by one of the Contracting States of the Schengen Agreement and a valid travel document, you can enter in the Republic of Slovenia and stay here for not more than three months as long as you meet the previously mentioned conditions of entry and you are not on a national list of persons or foreigners to whom the Republic of Slovenia does not permit entry to its territory.
Entry of a foreigner and his family members based on a long-term resident status in another EU member country

A long-term resident is a foreigner who is not a citizen of an EU member country and who has a permit for permanent or long-term residence in an EU member country, valid for a period of at least five years and issued on a EU-prescribed form in a uniform format for residence permits for third-country nationals, on which it is indicated that he/she is a long-term resident.

If you hold a long-term residence status in another EU member state, and your close relatives have a valid residence permit in another EU member state, you may, regardless of the purpose of your stay, enter the Republic of Slovenia with a passport and a residence permit and stay in the country for three months from the date of entry or until the permit expires.

RESIDENCE PERMITS

Acquisition of the first permit for temporary residence

If you want to enter and reside in the Republic of Slovenia for any other reason allowed on the basis of a visa, you must have a residence permit issued in the Republic of Slovenia: this has to be obtained before entering the country.

Purposes of stay for which you may be issued a residence permit:

- employment or work, research work, seasonal work, transnational services provided by seconded workers, daily migrant worker;
- family reunion;
- study, education, specialisation or professional training and practical training, co-operation or participation in international volunteer exchange programmes and other programmes that are not included in the formal education system;
- other justified reasons provided for by the law, international acts or international principles and customs (e.g. receiving a Slovene pension, real estate ownership, hospital treatment, custody, receiving financial compensation);
- Slovene origin up to the third successive generation.

Your first residence permit for the Republic of Slovenia can only be a temporary residence permit. An application for the issue of the first residence permit must be handed in at diplomatic mission or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad, which sends it to the competent administrative unit in the country.
Conditions for obtaining the first residence permit:

- valid passport (the period of validity must be at least three months longer than the intended period of stay in the Republic of Slovenia);
- appropriate health insurance;
- sufficient funds for subsistence (the amount per month must be at least equal to the basic minimum income in the Republic of Slovenia);
- fulfilment of one of the justified reasons or purposes for which a foreigner intends to reside in the Republic of Slovenia.

If you want to reside in the Republic of Slovenia, for example, due to employment or work, seasonal work, provision of cross-border services as a seconded worker or as a daily migrant worker, you have to have a previously issued and valid work permit if you want to obtain a residence permit. The Employment Service of Slovenia or its regional offices are responsible for issuing the work permit (the administrative unit checks the existence of a work permit ex officio).

If you want to obtain a residence permit for research work, you must have a signed hosting agreement with a research organisation from the Republic of Slovenia.

If you want to obtain a residence permit for study purposes, you must submit proof from the educational institution of your admission to the course or other education. If you want to reside in the Republic of Slovenia solely for family reunion reasons, you have to prove the existence of a family relationship.

Besides the proof of compliance with these conditions, you must also add to the application for the residence permit a certificate from criminal records from your home country, and this must be no more than three months old (when the home country issues such certificates). In compliance with the Aliens Act, your request for a residence permit can be denied if there are serious reasons for suspecting that you may pose a danger to public order and security, or to the international relationships of the Republic of Slovenia, or if there is a suspicion that your residing in the country will be connected with terrorist or other violent acts, illegal intelligence activities, the supplying of drugs or implementing other criminal offences.

If you meet all the conditions for the issue of the first temporary residence permit, the administrative unit issues the permit and sends it to the diplomatic mission or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad, where it will be handed to you.
Additional information on the procedure for issuing the residence permit:

- family reunion

You may obtain a temporary residence permit for your immediate family members if you reside in the Republic of Slovenia based on a permanent residence permit or if you have resided in the country based on a temporary residence permit for the last year and the issued permit is valid for at least one year (in the case of a one-year valid temporary residence permit, the period of residence in the country on the basis of the certificate of the submitted application for renewal or the period of issue of further permit for temporary residence permit is also included). You can hand in the application for the issue of the permit at the diplomatic mission or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad, or at the administrative unit in which the family member will reside after arriving in the Republic of Slovenia.

If you have a temporary residence permit to perform research work, reunion with your family members may take place immediately. Immediate reunion is also possible if your residence is in the interests of the Republic of Slovenia. This interest is assessed by the relevant Slovene Ministry (e.g. Ministry of the Economy for foreign business, the Ministry of Culture for cultural workers, etc.).

Close family members are: spouse, unmarried children (aged up to 18) of a foreigner, minor unmarried children of a spouse, parents of a minor foreigner, adult unmarried children and parents of a foreigner or spouse who the foreigner or a spouse is required to maintain under the law of the national country. The administrative unit may exceptionally, using its discretionary right, also consider other relatives of a foreigner if the special circumstances speak in favour of the reunion of family members in the Republic of Slovenia.

If you intend to reside in the Republic of Slovenia for a period of up to one year due to the provision of seasonal work or cross-border provision of services as a seconded worker, you do not have the right to family reunion with close family members.

- employment or work and seasonal work

You or your employer can ask for the issue of a temporary residence permit due to employment or work and seasonal work. You must submit the application at the diplomatic or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad. The employer may submit the application either at the diplomatic mission or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad, or at the administrative unit.
cross-border provision of services by seconded workers

You or your legal representative from one of the contracting parties can apply for the issue of a temporary residence permit due to the cross-border provision of services by seconded workers. You should submit the application at the diplomatic or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad. The legal representative from one of the contracting parties, on the other hand, can submit the application for first permit either at the diplomatic or at the consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad or at the administrative unit.

research work

You or the research organisation from the Republic of Slovenia with which you have a signed hosting agreement can ask for the issue of a temporary residence permit due to the provision of research work. You can submit the application at the diplomatic or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad. The research organisation can submit the application at the diplomatic or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia, or at the administrative unit.

Even in the cases described above where the issue of the temporary residence permit was requested by another natural or legal person, the permit will be handed personally to you or your legal representative at the diplomatic or consular post of the Republic of Slovenia abroad. This means that you have to obtain a residence permit before your arrival in the Republic of Slovenia.

long-term resident

An exception to the rule that you must obtain the residence permit before arrival in the Republic of Slovenia applies when you have a long-term resident status in another European Union member state and your family members have a residence permit.

The long-term resident and his/her close family members can, on the basis of a residence permit issued in another European Union member state, reside in the Republic of Slovenia for three months starting from the date when they entered the country or until the permit expires, whichever is shorter.

If you want to stay in the Republic of Slovenia longer, you and your family members have to apply for the issue of a temporary residence permit at the administrative unit before the expiry of the permitted stay. You can, however, apply for the issue of the residence permit for you and your family members before your arrival in the Republic of Slovenia. In this case, hand in the application at the diplomatic or consular post.
INTEGRATION INTO SLOVENE SOCIETY

Renewal of a temporary residence permit

If a temporary residence permit has been issued for your residence in Slovenia, for example due to employment or work, and you wish to continue to reside in the Republic of Slovenia for the same reasons after expiry of the permit, you may apply for its renewal.

As in the case of the first temporary residence permit, the application for renewal of the temporary residence permit may be filled in on your behalf by another person (employer, research organisation, contracting party’s representative).

The temporary residence permit may be renewed under the same conditions as it was issued; therefore the application should be supplemented by the same documents that supported the acquisition of the first residence permit.

The application for a temporary residence permit should be filled in at the administrative unit before the expiry of the permit to be renewed.

As well as ensuring the fulfilment of conditions for the renewal of the permit, during this procedure the administrative unit should verify again if there are any reasons not to issue your permit (such as threats to public order, safety or international relations, disrespect of rule of law of the Republic of Slovenia, etc.).

Further temporary residence permit

If after the expiry of the temporary residence permit you wish to reside in the Republic of Slovenia for a different reason from that for which the permit was issued, you may apply for a further temporary residence permit (for example, you originally apply to reside in the Republic of Slovenia due to your studies, and after their conclusion you wish to reside in the Republic of Slovenia due to employment).

This application should also be filled in at the administrative unit before the expiry of the temporary residence permit. The conditions, the procedure and the manner of issue are the same as in the procedure for the permit renewal.

Permanent residence permit

A permanent residence permit may be issued to a foreigner (a citizen of a third country) after a period of five years of continuous residence in the Republic of...
Slovenia based on a temporary permit and if other conditions determined in the Aliens Act are met.

The condition of five year continuous residence shall be fulfilled even if during this period you were not present in the Republic of Slovenia for the whole time and the temporary residence permit was not issued; however, your periods of absence must have been shorter than six consecutive months and in the five-year period they must not have exceeded a total of ten months.

During evaluation of the period for the issue of the permanent residence permit, only one half of any period of residence in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of the temporary permit due to studies or professional training shall be counted. No time spent in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of a temporary residence permit due to seasonal work, as a seconded worker or as daily migrant worker or as a person under temporary protection shall be included in the evaluation period.

Neither shall the permanent residence permit be issued if you reside in the Republic of Slovenia for five consecutive years only on the basis of the temporary residence permit due to your professional training studies, nor if during the evaluation period you reside in the Republic of Slovenia due to your studies, professional training, seasonal work, as a seconded worker or as a daily migrant worker.

If other legal conditions are met before the expiry of the five-year period, the permanent residence permit may be issued to the following persons:

- A foreigner who is of Slovene descent;
- A foreigner whose residence in the Republic of Slovenia is of interest to the Republic of Slovenia;
- A foreigner who used to have a permanent residence permit but this expired due to expatriation or absence from the Republic of Slovenia or the area of the EU member states;
- A foreigner who used to have a permanent residence permit in the Republic of Slovenia but this expired due to the acquisition of a longer-term resident status in another EU member state.

Before the expiry of the five-year period, the permanent residence permit may be issued to immediate family members if you have a permanent residence permit in the Republic of Slovenia or refugee status. The permanent residence permit may be issued after two years of continuous residence in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of the temporary residence permit.
The application for the permanent residence permit may be filed personally or by your legal representative or by an authorised person at the administrative unit where you reside.

Conditions for the acquisition of a permanent residence permit shall be continuous residence in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of the temporary residence permit and conditions as required for the issue of the first residence permit. The administrative unit shall assess the five-year continuous residence in the Republic of Slovenia condition on the basis of the official records on foreigners. It shall also determine again if, in compliance with the Aliens Act, there are any reasons not to issue the permit. Therefore the application must be supplemented by the certificate of the criminal record check issued by a relevant body from your country of origin (when such a certificate is issued by the country of origin).

A foreigner or a citizen of a third country who was issued a permanent residence permit under the Aliens Act on a harmonised residence permit EU form for third countries’ citizens shall have the status of a long-term resident, and this shall be marked on the permit accordingly.

ENTRY AND RESIDENCE OF CITIZENS FROM THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC AREA (EEA) MEMBER COUNTRIES

ENTRY INTO THE COUNTRY

As a citizen of another European Economic Area (EEA) member country you may enter the Republic of Slovenia with a valid identity card or a valid passport. No authorisation for entry, i.e. visa or residence permit, is required regardless of the purposes for entry or residence in the Republic of Slovenia (this is also the case when you enter the Republic of Slovenia for employment, study, self-employment, settlement, etc.). For the first three months you may reside in the Republic of Slovenia without registration, but if your period of residence will be longer you should file an application at the relevant administrative unit (the administrative unit where you reside) for the issue of a residence registration certificate before the expiry of the approved three-month stay. You may also apply for the Residence Registration Certificate immediately after entering the Republic of Slovenia.

Residence Registration Certificate

Before your acquisition of a Residence Registration Certificate, you are obliged to comply with registration with the police as required by the Residence Registration
Act. If you do not reside in a tourist complex, hotel or accommodation facility, you should register this yourself at the relevant police station within three days after crossing the border or changing your lodgings. If you settle in a tourist complex or hotel, you should be registered at the relevant police station by the complex or hotel management within 12 hours of your arrival; however, if you settle in private accommodation, you should be registered at the relevant police station by your landlord within three days of your arrival.

The Residence Registration Certificate may be issued to a citizen of an EEA member country who wishes to reside or who already resides in the Republic of Slovenia due to employment or work, self-employment, provision of services, study, family reunion, as well as to a citizen of the EEA without any of the reasons mentioned above but who wishes to reside in the Republic of Slovenia. The conditions to be met for the issue of the Residence Registration Certificate shall depend on the purpose of residence as follows:

- Employment or work

  If you wish to be employed or work in the Republic of Slovenia or have been already employed or have worked in the Republic of Slovenia, you may obtain a Residence Registration Certificate if you hold a valid identity card or a valid passport and the employer’s confirmation of your engagement or certificate of employment or work, if you are already employed.

- Self-employed person or service provider

  If you work or provide services in the Republic of Slovenia as a self-employed person or a service provider you may be issued with a Residence Registration Certificate if you hold a valid identity card or a valid passport and have evidence supporting the fact that you are self-employed or a service provider.

- Studies

  If you wish to study in the Republic of Slovenia you need a valid identity card or valid passport, evidence of admission to the studies or other form of education, sufficient subsistence funds (at least the minimum income, on a monthly basis, as determined in the Republic of Slovenia) as well as the appropriate health insurance certificate for a Residence Registration Certificate to be issued.

- Other reasons

  A Residence Registration Certificate may be issued on the basis of other reasons if you hold a valid identity card or a valid passport, sufficient subsistence funds (at least the minimum income, on a monthly basis, as determined in the Republic of Slovenia) as well as the appropriate health insurance certificate.

If you fulfil the conditions for the issue of a Residence Registration Certificate, the certificate shall be issued for five years or for the period of planned residence in the Republic of Slovenia, whichever is shorter. The Registration Residence Certificate may be renewed at your request under the same conditions for which it was issued.

Refusal of the application for the Residence Registration Certificate

The application for the Residence Registration Certificate may be refused when any of the following are determined during the procedure:

- That not all of the above mentioned conditions are fulfilled;
- That your residence in the Republic of Slovenia might cause a threat to public order, security, or the international relations of the Republic of Slovenia;
- If there are reasons to suspect that your residence in the country shall be linked to terrorist or other violent acts, illegal intelligence, the drug trade or other criminal acts;
- If during the procedure in which the first certificate is issued it is determined that you come from areas with contagious diseases that can become epidemics as listed in the international health rules of the World Health Organisation; or from areas where contagious diseases are present that might jeopardise public health and for which, in compliance with the act regulating contagious diseases, requisite measures should be adopted;
- If it is determined that your work in the Republic of Slovenia is in conflict with regulations on employment relationships and work, or in conflict with regulations on undeclared employment and work;
- If it is determined that any period of prohibition of entry into the country has not yet expired.

Issue of the permanent residence permit

After five-year continuous residence on the basis of the Registration Residence Certificate and on condition that there are no reasonable grounds under which you might pose a threat to public order or state security, you may obtain a permanent residence permit, which is valid for an indefinite period. The relevant administrative unit (the administrative unit where you reside) is authorised to accept the application and to issue the permanent residence permit.
ENTRY AND RESIDENCE OF FAMILY MEMBERS OF CITIZENS OF EEA MEMBER COUNTRIES OR SLOVENE CITIZENS

Family members of EEA member country citizens or family members of Slovene citizens (subsequently referred to as family members) may be either citizens of another EEA member country or citizens of so-called third countries (in comparison with foreigners, more favourable arrangements apply to citizens of third countries in regard to entry and residence in the Republic of Slovenia).

Under the Aliens Act, family members of EEA member country citizens or Slovene citizens are defined as follows:

- Spouse;
- Unmarried children under the age of 21;
- Unmarried children of a spouse who are under the age of 21;
- Unmarried children aged 21 and over and parents of the EEA member country citizen or Slovene citizen who should be supported in compliance with the laws of the country of the citizenship;
- Unmarried children aged 21 and over and parents of the spouse who should be supported by the spouse of EEA member country citizens or Slovene citizens in compliance with the laws of the country of the citizenship;
- Parents of EEA member country citizens and Slovene citizens under the age of 21.

ENTRY INTO THE COUNTRY

A family member who is also a citizen of another EEA member state may enter the Republic of Slovenia with a valid identity card or a valid passport and no authorisation to entry is required regardless of the purpose of residence in the Republic of Slovenia. If he/she wishes to reside in the Republic of Slovenia for a period longer than three months due to family reunion with a citizen of an EEA member state or a Slovene citizen, he/she should apply for the issue of a Residence Registration Certificate due to other reasons at the relevant administrative unit (administrative unit where he resides) before the expiry of the allowed three month period. The Residence Registration Certificate may be issued if he/she holds a valid identity card or a valid passport, sufficient subsistence funds (at least the minimum income, on a monthly basis, as determined in the Republic of Slovenia) as well as the appropriate health insurance certificate.
A family member who is not a citizen of an EEA member state may enter the Republic of Slovenia due to family reunion with an EEA member state citizen or with a Slovene citizen with a valid passport including the visa (unless he/she is a citizen of a country for which the visa requirement for the entry into the Republic of Slovenia does not apply) or with a valid passport and authorisation to reside issued by another EEA member state. If he/she is a citizen of a country that may enter the Republic of Slovenia with another document (identity card), the identity card is required.

A family member who enters the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of a valid identity card, passport or passport and authorisation to reside issued by another EEA member state may reside in the Republic of Slovenia without a residence permit for three months after the day of entry into the country or until the expiry of the permit, whichever is earlier, whereas the family member who enters the Republic of Slovenia with an entry visa may reside in the Republic of Slovenia until the expiry of the visa.

Issue of a temporary residence permit

If the family member who is not a citizen of an EEA member state wishes to reside in the Republic of Slovenia for a longer period for a family reunion with an EEA member state citizen or Slovene citizen, he/she should apply for a family member temporary residence permit at the relevant administrative unit (at the unit where he/she resides) before the expiry of the residence permit. The family member may fill in the application in person or it may be completed by his/her legal representative or by the EEA citizen or the Slovene citizen who he/she is reuniting with.

The temporary residence permit may be issued to a family member who is a citizen of a third country under the following conditions:

- He/she is a family member of an EEA citizen who resides in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of a Residence Registration Certificate, or a Slovene citizen with a place of residence registered in the Republic of Slovenia;
- He/she holds a valid identity card or a valid passport;
- He/she has sufficient subsistence funds (at least the minimal income, on a monthly basis, determined in the Republic of Slovenia);
- He/she holds an appropriate health insurance certificate;
- He/she has entered the Republic of Slovenia in compliance with the provisions of the Aliens Act;
- In the case of a spouse, it is not determined that the marriage has been entered into explicitly or mainly with the purpose of obtaining the residence permit;
- There are no reasons to refuse the issue of the permit due to threats to public order, security or the international relations of the Republic of Slovenia or due to the suspicion that the residence in the Republic of Slovenia can be linked to terrorist or other violent acts, illegal intelligence activity, the drug trade or other criminal acts; or if during the procedure of the first permit issue it is determined that the family member has come from areas with contagious diseases that can become epidemics as listed in the international health rules of the World Health Organisation, or from areas where contagious diseases are present that might jeopardise public health and for which in compliance with the act regulating contagious diseases requisite measures should be adopted; or if it is determined that in the Republic of Slovenia his/her work is in conflict with regulations on employment relationships and work, or in conflict with regulations on undeclared employment and work.

A temporary residence permit issued to a family member of another EEA member state citizen shall be valid for the same period as the Residence Registration Certificate of the EEA citizen; the permit issued to a family member of a Slovene citizen shall be valid for five years. The family member’s temporary residence permit may be renewed under the same conditions under which it was issued. The application for renewal of the temporary residence permit should be filled at the administrative unit before the permit’s expiry.

Issue of a permanent residence permit

A family member who is a EEA citizen and who has resided in the Republic of Slovenia for five consecutive years on the basis of the Residence Registration Certificate and who is not suspected of any threats to public order or state security may obtain an indefinite permanent residence permit for his/her residence in the Republic of Slovenia.

An EEA citizen who is a family member of a Slovene citizen or a family member of an EEA citizen or a third-country citizen who already holds a permanent residence permit in the Republic of Slovenia may obtain a permanent residence permit after two years of continuous residence in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of a Residence Registration Certificate.

An indefinite permanent residence permit may also be obtained by a family member who is a third-country citizen, provided that he/she resides continuously in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of a temporary residence permit for five years and fulfils all conditions determined in the Aliens Act with regard to the issue of the temporary residence permit for the family member. A family member of an EEA citizen who already holds a permanent residence permit in the Republic of Slovenia and the family member of a Slovene citizen may be issued with a permanent residence permit after two years of continuous residence in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of a temporary residence permit.
RESIDENCE REGISTRATION

The Residence Registration Act regulates the residence registration of citizens of the Republic of Slovenia and foreigners.

Temporary residence registration

If you are a third-country citizen and you reside in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of a temporary residence permit, or if you are an EEA citizen and you reside in the Republic of Slovenia on the basis of a Residence Registration Certificate, you should register your temporary residence at the administrative unit within three days of settling in or after you are given your temporary residence permit. If you settle in private accommodation, your temporary residence should be registered by your landlord.

The temporary residence registration shall be valid for a maximum period of one year. You or your landlord should renew the temporary residence application within eight days of the registration expiring. If you file the application for the renewal of a temporary residence permit or for the issue of a further temporary residence permit or a Residence Registration Certificate in time, the relevant body renews the temporary residence registration for the period of the application; after the temporary residence permit or the Residence Registration Certificate is issued, you should renew the residence registration on your own or it should be renewed by your landlord.

Permanent residence registration

You should register your permanent residence at the administrative unit within eight days of the permanent residence permit being issued.

When registering your temporary or permanent residence you should also submit the following documents: a valid personal document with a photograph, and evidence that you have the right to reside at the address you are registering. Evidence is deemed to be proof of ownership, a rental or licensee agreement or written consent of the owner or owners of the apartment or the management body of the accommodation facility (the owner’s consent need not be certified).

If the property where you wish to register your residence is recorded in the Land Register, the title of the property need not be proved as this information shall be obtained by the relevant body ex officio; however, in this case you should communicate the number of the property’s entry on the Land Register, the name of the cadastral municipality or the property’s lot number and the relevant court.

More information on the residence registration and the options for e-registration may be obtained at the administrative units or at the e-government web portal http://e-uprava.gov.si/e-uprava.

An application for citizenship of the Republic of Slovenia should be filed, with supporting documentation, in person at any administrative unit. The administrative fee should be paid for the citizenship acquisition procedure.

Citizenship of the Republic of Slovenia may be obtained in other manners beside naturalisation. If you need further details in relation to conditions of acquiring the citizenship you should consult any administrative unit. Kindergartens

Pre-school education is carried out by public and private kindergartens. Children from the age of 11 months and up till primary school age can enrol in a kindergarten. Pre-school education is not compulsory. On the basis of the application children can be enrolled in the kindergarten all year round. If there are more children enrolled than there are free places, the commission decides on who should be admitted. At admission, parents have to produce a paediatrician’s certificate on their child’s state of health. Parents who receive financial social assistance under the Social Security regulations are exempt from paying for the kindergarten. Exemption from payment can be claimed at the proper municipal administrative body.

Usually, the working hours of kindergartens are between 5:30 or 6:00 and 16:00 or 16:30. Kindergartens operate every working day of the week and year; some also provide a turn of duty on Saturdays.

Elementary School

The basic education in Slovenia is compulsory and lasts for 9 years. For children and youths it is free-of-charge.

Parents have to enrol their children in the 1\textsuperscript{st} grade of elementary school in the year in which the child reaches the age of 6. Enrolment for subsequent school year is made at school in February. You enrol your child in the school district where you have your permanent or temporary residence. Children can be enrolled in the international elementary programme under the IBO (International Baccalaureate Organization) system at the Danila Kumar Elementary School.

Secondary School

Secondary education in the Republic of Slovenia is divided into general (general secondary school), vocational, and secondary professional and technical education. General education ends with the matura exam as a form of external examination and in addition to the enrolment to the university it also renders it possible for students to enrol in post-secondary and professional higher education programmes. Vocational and professional education prepares apprentices and students for occupations. It ends with the final exam. Secondary professional education programmes end with vocational matura, and also render it possible for students to enrol in post-secondary and professional higher education programmes. Each year the pre-enrolment announcements are published in February. At the same time the schools organise Information days, where students can get acquainted with the school’s curriculum. The application for enrolment in the preferred secondary school has to be completed by the given date in March.

Higher Education

Higher education studies take place at public higher education institutions: universities, faculties, art academies of professional colleges and at independent higher education institutions. The universities (public higher education institutions) in Slovenia are located in Ljubljana, Maribor, Koper and Nova Gorica. The Call for Enrolment in higher education institutions is, as a rule, published in January. Information about officially published vacant spots and conditions can be obtained from the Ministry of Higher Education, Science and Technology website (http://www.mvzt.gov.si). There are two application deadlines: one in spring and one in autumn. If there are some vacant spots after the autumn deadline, candidates can enrol during a third period (until 10 October). They apply to individual faculties. If there is a limited enrolment, the final grade in secondary school (3rd and 4th year and the matura exam, vocational matura or final exam) is taken into account as is the final grade of specific skills, if these are relevant for the studies. The academic year begins on 1st October and ends on 30th September.

An additional 5% of the number of places available for citizens of the Republic of Slovenia and citizens of countries that are members of the European Union are generally made available for foreign citizens from countries that are not European Union member states. Foreign citizens who have permanent residence in the Republic of Slovenia and who are themselves, or their parents/guardians are, taxpayers in the Republic of Slovenia, are candidates for places reserved for the citizens of the Republic of Slovenia and citizens of EU countries.

Foreigners and citizens of non-European countries pay tuition fees, unless:

- provided otherwise in bilateral or international agreements and treaties;
- you are the holder of a scholarship from your Ministry for Higher Education, or an authorised contractor of scholarships;
- you are a student of an exchange programme between higher education institutions in the Lifelong Learning programme;
you are a foreign citizen with permanent residence in the Republic of Slovenia and you yourself, or your parents or guardians, are taxpayers in the Republic of Slovenia.

You can get more information about the enrolment in individual universities at their application-enrolment service.

RECOGNITION OF QUALIFICATIONS

The procedure for the recognition of the level of education obtained abroad varies depending on the purpose for which the recognition is required.

Recognition for the purpose of continuing the education in the Republic of Slovenia is a procedure by which, with a written order, the holder of a foreign certificate is recognised to have the right to continue their education in the Republic of Slovenia. The procedure begins at your request, and is submitted using a prescribed form at the school, other educational institution, or higher education institution in the Republic of Slovenia in which you want to continue your education. You also have to enclose the appropriate documentation.

Recognition for the purpose of employment in the Republic of Slovenia allows people to enter the labour market and use the vocational and professional education title or professional and academic title which they gained abroad. The procedure begins by you submitting the prescribed form to the competent ministry (Ministry of Higher Education, Science and Technology). You also have to enclose the appropriate documentation.

Foreign public documents about your education, which you must submit as part of the recognition procedure, must be certified in accordance with the existing legislation of the Republic of Slovenia.

ADULT EDUCATION

Adult education includes education, improvement, training and learning for persons who have completed basic compulsory education and who wish to acquire, modernise, extend and deepen their knowledge but who do not have the status of a pupil or student. Persons who decide to enrol in adult education acquire the status of participants in adult education.

Adult education can be divided into formal and informal education. Formal education enables the obtainment of publicly recognised education, professional qualifications or publicly recognised documents. Informal education is dedicated to acquiring, resuming, broadening, updating and deepening knowledge, but is not proven with a publicly recognised document.

National Vocational Qualifications (NVQ)

A national vocational qualification is a professional or vocational qualification needed to attend to one’s business or individual segments of work within a profession at a certain level of complexity.

The individual can obtain a vocational qualification in the following ways: in school education by completing parts of educational programmes for vocational or professional education, by completing programmes for vocational training, if so defined in these programmes, by completing parts of study programmes for higher education or by completing training study programmes, or by proving that he/she can achieve the standards of professional knowledge and skills as defined in the Catalogue of Skills.

The law allows for a person to prove their national vocational qualification, which is defined by the Catalogue of Skills, regardless of how an individual acquires his knowledge and skills (in the educational system, through self study, work experience, development of certain personal traits which are necessary for certain knowledge to be realised in practice, etc.). It is explicitly stated that with NVQ obtained in accordance with the National Professional Qualifications Act a person cannot obtain a vocational or professional education title. This can be obtained only through educational programmes adopted in compliance with regulations regulating vocational and professional education. Certificates which individuals obtain in accordance with the National Professional Qualifications Act are taken into account in obtaining publicly valid education in accordance with the regulations regulating the field of education.
Vocational qualifications need to be proven with a public deed. Vocational qualifications obtained in the educational programme are recognised by certificates, diplomas and other documents. The certificate that is acquired outside the formal school system is a certificate of vocational qualification and is defined in the Rules on the form of national vocational qualification certificate.

Obtaining certification is intended for adults; young people should be encouraged to gain formal vocational education. Thus the general condition for obtaining the certificate is that the holder has reached the age of 18. Those younger than 18 can obtain a vocational qualification in exceptional circumstances if they lose their apprenticeship or student status and show work experience gained in any kind of way. Eventual special conditions may be set out in the Catalogue of Skills.

The costs of the procedure for obtaining NVQ are paid for by the candidates.

Inclusion in the system for obtaining publicly valid education

Foreigners are entitled to attend programmes of inclusion in the educational system in order to obtain publicly valid education.

Lists and details of educational courses intended for adults are published on the website http://www.acs.si/dodatni_vir

Lists and details of publicly valid programmes that are not meant exclusively for adults but in which adults can enrol can be obtained from the Centre for Vocational Training of the Republic of Slovenia website (http://www.cpi.si) and the Ministry of Education and Sport website (http://www.mss.gov.si).

SLOVENE LANGUAGE LEARNING PROGRAMMES

Programmes up to 180 hours

These programmes are meant for third-country nationals who have a permanent residence permit, and their family members with a temporary residence permit on the basis of family reunion.

At the selected language school you take a classification test, on the basis of which the school defines the number of hours you need to achieve a basic knowledge of the Slovenian language.

After concluding the language course, you are entitled to a free first test of knowledge of the Slovenian language at the basic level.

If you, as a foreigner with a temporary residence permit, have already attended a 60-hour Slovenian language learning programme and have acquired a permanent residence permit, you are entitled to participate in another programme, but the number of hours will be determined as the difference between the already approved hours and the assessment of the necessary number of hours. The duration of any re-participation should not exceed the 120-hour programme.

Programmes in the range of 60 hours

These are meant for third-country nationals who have resided in the Republic of Slovenia for at least two years on the basis of a temporary residence permit and who have further valid permission to stay for one year, and members of their family – but only when they themselves fulfil the conditions for participating in the programme.

After completing the programme you will write a test of knowledge of the Slovenian language at the basic level as is required for basic communication. This test is carried out by the course instructor.

60-hour as well as 180-hour Slovenian language learning programmes are free of charge. You only have to pay your travelling expenses and for teaching aids and materials.

Registration for participation in the programme

At the administrative unit where you have declared your permanent or temporary residence, you have to fill in a claim for a certificate attesting your compliance for participation in the Slovenian language learning programme. The administrative unit will, if you meet the conditions, issue a certificate attesting compliance for the participation in the Slovenian language learning programme.

With the issued certificate you should present yourself at one of the selected contractors/performers, where you will obtain all the information regarding the Slovenian language learning programme.

Claims and a list of performers are also available on E-government state portal:

http://e-uprava.gov.si/e-uprava/

You cannot participate in the Slovenian language programmes if you have finished education in Slovenia at any stage, were for at least three years enrolled in a regular education programme or have already obtained a certificate of a completed test of knowledge of the Slovenian language at least at the basic level.

TEST OF KNOWLEDGE OF THE SLOVENIAN LANGUAGE AT THE BASIC LEVEL

The test of knowledge of the Slovenian language at the basic level is intended for adults whose mother language is not Slovene but who need a public certificate recognising their knowledge of the Slovenian language as a second language for personal or official purposes (e.g. for acquisition of Slovene citizenship).

Third-country nationals who have a permanent residence permit, and their family members who have temporary residence permit on the basis of family reunion, have the right to a free first test of the knowledge of the Slovene language at the basic level.

Registration for participation in the programme

At the administrative unit where you declared your permanent or temporary residence, you have to file in the claim for attending your first test of knowledge of Slovenian language. The administrative unit will, if you meet the conditions, issue a certificate attesting compliance for your participation in the programmes.

With the issued certificate you can present yourself at one of the authorised performers of the test of knowledge of the Slovenian language at the basic level:

EMPLOYMENT AND WORK

Work Permits
EMPLOYMENT AND WORK

It is only possible to employ or provide work for a foreigner in Slovenia when he/she has previously already obtained a work permit or other appropriate permit which replaces the work permit. A work permit is not required only if provided by law or by international treaty.

Work permits are not needed for nationals of member states of the European Union, the European Economic Area and Swiss Confederation, and their family members; or for third-country nationals if they have a residence permit because of family reunion with nationals from the EU, EEA or Swiss Confederation.

Employment of workers from the EU member states, the EEA (Norway, Liechtenstein, Iceland) and the Swiss Confederation

Workers from these countries are in employment or, when seeking employment, equal to local workers.

This means that if you are employed you do not need a work permit, but the employer who employs you has to fill in a special form notifying the Employment Service of the employment of an EU worker. The employment of a citizen of the EU, EEA or Swiss Confederation as well as the employment of a family member of a citizen of EU, EEA or Swiss Confederation is deemed to be registered when it is registered in the social insurance system by the employer. The employer is obliged to complete the application within ten days after the employee takes up the work.

Registration of the service performance for the abovementioned citizens can be made using the form ZRSZ-TUJ, which should be sent to the following address: ZRSZ Centralna služba, Rožna dolina cesta IX/6, Ljubljana.

Recognition of free access to the Slovenian labour market for family members of citizens of EU Member States, the EEA (Norway, Liechtenstein, Iceland) and the Swiss Confederation

The right to free access to the labour market for nationals of the EU or EEA and the Swiss Confederation means that you can be employed in the Republic of Slovenia without requiring a work permit.

The right to a free access to the labour market for a family member of a citizen of an EU member state or the EEA and the Swiss Confederation means that the family member can be employed or self-employed in the Republic of Slovenia without requiring a work permit.

A citizen of an EU member state and the EEA shows the employer that he has the right to free access to the Slovene labour market with a certificate which proves that he is a citizen of an EU member state or the EEA.

Family members of a citizen described in the preceding paragraph, but who are not citizens of an EU member state or the EEA, shows the employer their right to the free access to the Slovene labour market with a family member residence permit allowing a family reunion.

WORK PERMITS

Work permits are usually issued on the employer’s application. The fundamental condition for issuing the permit is the current situation in the labour market or the lack of adequate national candidates.

In special cases, which are specifically provided by the law, foreigners can also apply for a work permit. The issue of the permit is determined by your status of a foreigner or the nature of your work, and it is issued regardless of the labour market situation.

Work permits allow you to work or be employed and are the basis for the acquisition of a residence permit, which is a special permit issued by Slovene diplomatic consular posts or administrative units in the Republic of Slovenia.

Foreigners and citizens of so-called third countries can be employed or work in Slovenia only on the basis of their work permits, except for cases when the Employment and Work of Aliens Act or an international agreement defines otherwise.

If you are employed on the basis of a work permit, you have all the rights and obligations in compliance with national legislation, in particular with the Employment Relationships Act, e.g. regarding your wages, working hours, breaks, rest periods, occupational safety, and other rights. If the employer violates your rights you can contact the Labour Inspectorate of the Republic of Slovenia, which is responsible for the supervision of the employment law:

Inšpektorat RS za delo/Labour Inspectorate of the Republic of Slovenia
Parmova 33
☎ 01/ 280 36 60, irsd@gov.si
Personal Work Permit

- Valid for one year

On the basis of the personal work permit that is valid for one year, you can become self-employed (run a business as an independent business person, run an independent professional activity, or establish a private company).

- Valid for three years

You can ask for a personal work permit that is valid for three years if you are:

1. a close family member of a Slovene citizen, and you have a valid temporary residence permit due to family reunion reasons,
2. a close family member of a foreigner with a personal work permit of indefinite duration and you have a valid temporary residence permit, due to family reunion reasons, and if you have previously lived in the Republic of Slovenia for at least two years on the basis of a temporary residence permit,
3. a Slovene emigrant or his/her direct descendant of up to the third generation and you do not have Slovene citizenship,
4. a self-employed foreigner and you have been employed in the Republic of Slovenia for two continuous years and you are registered in the Business Register,
5. a foreigner with at least vocational education and for the last two years before submitting the application you have been continuously employed by the same employer or his legal predecessor,
6. a migrant worker and for the last two years, before submitting the application you have been continuously employed by the same employer or his legal predecessor,

Valid for an indefinite period

You can obtain a personal work permit that is valid for an indefinite period if you have a permanent residence permit or you have been granted the status of a refugee in Slovenia.

Holders of a personal work permit valid for three years or for an indefinite period can be employed by any employer in Slovenia or can become self-employed.

Employment permit

An employment permit, valid for one year, can be issued only on the application of the employer. It can be extended.

On the basis of the employment permit you can, as a third-country national, be employed only by the employer who obtained a permit for you and you perform only the work for which the permit was issued.

Work permit

Work permits are issued for seasonal work, seconded foreign workers, company representatives, qualification and training, additional education and individual services. This brochure briefly discusses seasonal work only.

Permits for seasonal work are issued on the basis of an application by the employer for seasonal work in construction, valid for up to 9 months in any 12-month period; and for seasonal work in agriculture and forestry and in the catering industry and tourism, valid for up to 6 months in an individual calendar year. After the end of the seasonal employment and before the expiry of an obligatory intermediate break, no other work permits can be issued. Without a legally defined break, the permit can only be issued for the employment on the basis of an application by the same employer with whom the foreigner had been seasonally employed. The obligatory intermediate break for the seasonal work in construction expires after 7 months; in the two other seasonal jobs, it expires at the end of the calendar year.

PERMITS FOR EMPLOYMENT WITHOUT VERIFICATION OF LABOUR MARKET CONDITIONS AND CIRCUMSTANCES – A LIST OF OCCUPATIONS IN SHORTAGE

The Minister of Work determines cases in which the employment of a foreigner is not bound by labour market conditions, and the work permit is issued without considering whether or not there are any appropriate national unemployed persons or persons who have equal employment rights to those of citizens of the Republic of Slovenia on the employment office register. Such examples include:

- foreigners with professions in shortage in the Slovene labour market,
- foreigners with professions that cannot be obtained through education or training in Slovenia, athletes, cultural workers, scientists, tutors,
- family members of foreigners with tertiary education,
- staff in diplomatic bodies who do not have privileged status, etc.

The list of occupations for each Regional Service Institute in which there is a shortage of personnel is published on the institute’s website http://www.ess.gov.sl

HEALTH INSURANCE

Health insurance provides adequate health and social security in times of illness or injury as it covers the cost of risk in cases when we get sick, injured or have any other medical needs. Its basic characteristic is that the rights of each individual or from the dependant family members are related to the application for the insurance and the payment of the appropriate contribution (for compulsory health insurance) or premium (for voluntary health insurance).

Foreigners who are not included in the Republic of Slovenia’s health insurance system have the right to urgent or necessary medical services, and payment for this is provided in accordance with European Law, international agreements or from the state budget.

There are two kinds of health insurance: compulsory and voluntary.

Compulsory health insurance doesn’t cover all the expenses that occur during treatment. Full coverage of costs is provided only for children, pupils and students who attend school regularly and for certain diseases and conditions. In other services it assures only a certain percentage of the price. You can arrange your health insurance at the Department of health insurance of the Republic of Slovenia.

Voluntary health insurance covers the difference between the full price and the part that is covered by the compulsory health insurance. You have to cover the insurance premium for supplementary health insurance by yourself and you can arrange your insurance at any health insurance company.

Policyholders identify themselves at health institutions with a health card on which all the information about the health insurance is stored. When visiting a doctor, a prior arrangement is usually necessary. As a rule you have to visit the health centre which is closest to your residence.

If you cannot arrange to be insured under the compulsory health insurance scheme, ask at a health insurance company about the eventual additional health insurance programmes.
SOCIAL SECURITY

If you find yourself in social distress and difficulty you can contact the centre for social work, where you will be provided with the necessary technical assistance and acquainted with the social security rights which you can exercise.

Professionals can help you identify social distress or difficulty and assess possible solutions; they acquaint you with the social care services and contributions available, with obligations arising from the choice of services or contributions, and can tell you about the entire network of contractors who can provide assistance. Personal assistance encompasses counselling, organisation and management to enable development, supplementing, preservation and improvement of your social situation.

Addresses of the social security centres can be found in the chapter »Contacts«.

FREE LEGAL AID

Free legal aid is regulated by the Free Legal Aid Act. The purpose of the free legal aid is to extend the right to the judicial protection according to the principle of equality, considering the social situation of the person who, without detriment to their livelihood and the livelihood of their family, could not exercise this right.

Free legal aid means the right of the claimant to the whole or partial providing of funds for the coverage of expenses for legal aid and exemption of costs of court proceedings. In practice this means the cost of legal advice, legal representation before the general courts, special courts, the Constitutional Court of the Republic of Slovenia and before all authorities, institutions or persons in the Republic of Slovenia that are responsible for the extrajudicial settlement of conflicts and exemption of court proceeding costs.

The beneficiaries of the free legal aid are persons who, when considering their financial position and the position of their family, would not be able to cover the costs of the proceeding on their own without compromising their financial position and the position of their family. Thus free legal aid is granted to persons whose average monthly income per family member does not exceed 2 times the basic amount of the minimum income.

Application for the grant of legal aid is made through a prescribed form, to which relevant documents have to be added, at the District Court, Labour Court or Administrative Court in which the applicant has a permanent or temporary
USEFUL INFORMATION

The application for legal aid can be obtained at specialist services for free legal aid and in bookshops. On the basis of the application, the competent authority decides on the eligibility for the free legal aid with a written order, which is handed in to the applicant.

Legal aid is carried out by lawyers who are registered under the Attorneys Act in the directory of lawyers and law firms (established by the Attorneys Act Law), and by notaries for matters which are performed under the Notary Act.

PROMOTION OF RECIPROCAL KNOWLEDGE AND UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN SLOVENE CITIZENS

Slovenia’s cultural policy will, in accordance with the National Programme for Culture 2008-2011, support the cultural activities of various ethnic groups in their effort to preserve their language, cultural and artistic way of expression, and cultural integration with the mother nation. Cultural awareness and people’s awareness of their cultural rights is one of the conditions for the inclusion in an open society, which is based on the autonomy and freedom of the individual.

The Ministry of Culture provides funding for the implementation of programmes which promote reciprocal knowledge and understanding in accordance with the annual programme in the field of the minority ethnic communities and immigrants in order to facilitate the participation of foreigners with individual associations and to help them participate in the cultural life of the Republic of Slovenia.

National Anthem

The National Anthem is the seventh stanza of the poem Zdravljica written in 1844 by the greatest Slovene poet, France Prešeren.

Žive naj vsi narodi ki hrepene dočakat’ dan, da koder sonce hodi,
prepir iz sveta bo pregnan,
da rojak
prost bo vsak,
ne vrag, le sosed bo mejak!

God’s blessing on all nations,
Who long and work for that bright day,
When o’er earth’s habitations
No war, no strife shall hold its sway;
Who long to see
That all men free,
No more shall foes, but neighbours be.

Slovene Athlete of the Century

Leon Štukelj was born on 12th November 1898 in Novo Mesto. In 1907 he enrolled in the Sokol Youth Organisation in Novo Mesto and had his first serious encounter with gymnastics. He spent his childhood and youth in a city near the river Krka. He graduated from the general upper secondary school and after graduating from the Faculty of Law he finished his judicial practice and was later appointed as a judge.

From here he went to his first three major world gymnastic competitions: the world championships in Ljubljana in 1922 and in Lyon in 1926 and to his most successful Olympic Games in Paris in 1924. In 1927 he moved from the capital of Dolenjska to Maribor. From there, he attended four major world competitions: the Olympic Games in Amsterdam in 1928 and in Berlin in 1936, and world championships in Luxemburg in 1930 and in Paris in 1931.

Altogether, he attended seven major world competitions and was twenty times among the first three. He came first eight times, second six times and third six times. At the Olympic Games he won six medals: two gold medals in Paris in 1924, one gold and two bronze medals in Amsterdam in 1928 and, to finish his career, one silver medal in Berlin in 1936.

In the city near the river Drava he settled down and started a family. He finished his gymnastic and working career there, and continued to live, full of energy and in good spirits, until 8th November 1999 when he suddenly died and found his final place for rest.
